LOUISVILLE JOURNAL.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 3 A. M.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.
 The Young Men's Christian Association met in their hall on Saturday evening, pursuant to adjournment, for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee, recently appointed in regard to the adoption of measures to raise a fund for the relief of the destitute in our city. A minority report signed by two members of the committee, which was composed of five persons, was submitted by the chairman of the committee, after which the majority reported, simply, that they could not agree to the plan just read, and had no plans to suggest, as they deemed the movement inexpedient.

The minority report was then read upon. A motion to lay the whole matter upon the table was carried by a vote of 15 to 6. There being some dissatisfaction as to the manner of procedure, some of the members in favor of the plan complaining that the majority of the table was made to prevent their views from being heard, the question of the report was referred to the next meeting.

A motion was then made to adopt the plan suggested by the minority, which, after a lengthy and spirited discussion, was lost, by a vote of 10 to 16.

We do not understand from this transaction that the Association has declared that its members will not contribute to the relief of the poor, but the plans suggested for raising the money were not deemed practicable, and hence the action of the Association. However, the destitute is not one of the objects of the Association, except so far as may be necessary for the accomplishment of their Christian work, but the most charitable spirit was manifested by those, even, who opposed the plans suggested by the minority of the committee.

A TIMELY PRESENT.—Most profoundly do we thank those liberal-hearted and enterprising jewellers, Messrs. Cook & Goodman, Third street, for the present of a superb office clock, one of the large assortment manufactured in Paris for them, bearing the imprint of their house, and recently imported from the French capital.

This clock is of the very latest style, and is made of the finest material and in the best possible manner. We could not have coveted a more acceptable gift, or one that would place a higher value upon its association. It came to us on the thirty-seventh anniversary of the Journal's birth, and is therefore truly appreciated. May we not hope that this goodly timepiece will engage the attention of those who are passing by, and that, while the hands upon its dial point out the winged moments, the kind donors may gather a harvest of fame, fortune, and friends that shall make them perennially happy.

In this timely connection we take pride in stating that Messrs. Cook & Goodman are establishing a trade that is excelled by few houses in this country for magnificence and costliness. They deal in goods in their line from all parts of the continent—even from the greatest trade centers. All this will be obvious to any one who may take a look at their newly-opened stock. It comprises one of the largest and richest assortments of watches, jewelry, plated ware, etc., to be found anywhere outside of Paris. These goods were all manufactured for the above popular firm, under the direct personal supervision of Mr. Cook, the senior of the firm, who spent the past spring and summer in France.

TRIMMINGS STATION HOUSE.—Jas. Murray and Alonzo Wiebold, a couple of belted and breeched engaged gentlemen, met in a friendly encounter, Saturday, at the corner of Ninth and Jefferson streets, in which all the rules of the P. R. were scrupulously regarded. Just as they had finished one round, and the standing antagonist had said, "Are you ready?" Lieut. Needy, of the P. R., answered that he was, and each of the muscle-developing boys took a "wing," and accompanied that officer to the station house.

Jas. Little left a good deal smaller Saturday night, when he was taken by Mr. Murray and Messrs. Wiebold to a cross-legged almost omniscient to pull my suit, but take a ride home. He would surely refuse to go any farther, but would rear up on his hind as though determined to play possum, until by a most severe application of rawhide he was induced to go to another crossing, when the same thing would be repeated. The other poor fellow seemed to hear it all patiently, but the ladies in the car had to be assured more than once that he had no more to say, if they would keep their seats. And still they would exclaim, "That horse ought to be killed."

A BIRDING HOUSE.—Some people think that all birding houses are saddle horses. It is a mistake. We saw a horse yesterday attached to a car coming up Market street, who would, every time he came to a crossing, almost omniscient to pull my suit, but take a ride home. He would surely refuse to go any farther, but would rear up on his hind as though determined to play possum, until by a most severe application of rawhide he was induced to go to another crossing, when the same thing would be repeated. The other poor fellow seemed to hear it all patiently, but the ladies in the car had to be assured more than once that he had no more to say, if they would keep their seats. And still they would exclaim, "That horse ought to be killed."

HAPPY CHRISTMAS.—Yesterday was the thirty-seventh anniversary of the birth of the Louisville Journal, and, by a happy coincidence, the birthday of our senior editor, our surviving son, Colonel Clarence J. Prentice. We must be allowed to offer to him our congratulations from the local department, and to wish him many happy returns of the day. May the latter include the virtues of our illustrious senior, his father, and live to perpetuate the glories of the Journal which its great master-spirit shall have passed away.

CAPTAIN HIM AGAIN.—Fred Guy, a notorious character, who will be remembered was caught in Paducah and brought to this city some weeks since, and then sent to the penitentiary, has been charged with robbery, committed on the L. & N. R. R., and various other crimes, broke out a few days ago at that place and came back here. Yesterday he was caught, by Officer McKim, in a warehouse at Portland, and sent back to his old quarters in Castle Thomas.

LOUISVILLE AMPHITHEATRE.—We are requested to correct the announcement in the Democrat of yesterday of the opening of the Amphitheatre to-night. The horses having been delayed on the train from New York, the opening cannot take place before Wednesday or Thursday next. Due notice will be given of the opening as soon as the stock arrives. The building is all complete and ready for the show.

WARREN'S AMERICAN STEP BOOK.—We have before us a nicely printed volume of 1,000 pages, giving the pedigrees of American racers and trotters. This is volume 1, and we suppose it is to be continued, as the names of some of the most famous racers and stallions are not in this volume. It is published by Messrs. W. A. Townsend & Co., New York city.
